I'm a full-stack web developer and a WordPress enthusiast. For the last seven years, I have collaborated with remote teams in agencies in London, Madrid, Barcelona and Amsterdam.

I worked with MVC frameworks like Symfony and Silex. But I am currently focused on WordPress.

For my theme development process, I normally use _Underscore, I create the CPT and taxonomies needed. Lately, I'm moving to a more modular way of developing so my code scales and it is easier to maintain.
